

Spring at Last

Finally getting going here. The garden has been planted with snow peas, radishes and pak choy. Inside starting are: Mammoth Basil, Roma Tomato, Salad Slicer Cucumber, Cup of Sun Nasturtiums, Lilliput Zinnia and Dwarf Bolero Margigolds. The Apricot blossoms have come and gone and the Pear is now in bloom. What's troubling is I don't see many bees active here... The fence boxes have been "squirrel-proofed" with black plastic grids secured with string or rubber bands. This prevents the squirrels from using the boxes as storage bins!
