Finally we are above 40 degrees! Slow start here but have starts inside. The peas, radishes and pak choy like the colder weather. The tulips were great this year (had to replant last fall... the older ones were 20 years old!) One disturbing trend is there are hardly any bees... seen some carpenter bees, a few bumble bees but no other small bees around the pear tree. Don't think we will have much fruit this year. Hope this is not due to bee colony die offs....
