

My City Garden creator Carol Nissen was interviewed for an article in the September 2008 issue of WIRED magazine. She was interviewed by Clive Thomas. The article is called "Grow Your Own". (No, not THAT plant...) The site is about growing small amounts of food (like a salad, - greens, tomatoes, herbs ) in a small city space using tiny yards, containers, roofs, porches, etc. You can produce healthy food for your table and decrease your carbon "footprint".